The Cook Islands is a group of 15 small islands in the Pacific, to the north-east of New Zealand. Of the 12 inhabited islands in the group, Entura's work addresses the conversion of the power supply of six southern islands from mainly diesel generation to solar/battery hybrid systems that will supply 100% of the populations' energy needs.

Three newly commissioned battery systems on Rarotonga which cost US$16 million (approx. NZ$24m) will reduce the island's dependence on oil-fuelled power generation and continue the shift to solar power.

The projects, which are conditional on signing a capacity investment scheme agreement, are expected to commence operations by mid-2027. The CIS aims to encourage new investment in renewable energy ...
