Japanese BMS are engineered to maximize battery performance and extend lifespan. They achieve this by continuously monitoring voltage, current, temperature, and state of charge. Advanced algorithms predict and manage battery usage patterns, ensuring that batteries are used in the most efficient manner.

AESC is a global leader in the development and manufacturing of high-performance batteries for zero-emission electric vehicles and energy storage systems. Founded in Japan in 2007 and headquartered in Yokohama, AESC has been building manufacturing capabilities around the world in the U.S., U.K., Europe, Japan and China to serve key markets and ...

12V battery prototype was build by connecting 3.3V-13.1Ah prismatic cells in 4S-4P configuration. BMS was added to the battery, and the battery was integrated into a test vehicle at the original place below the driver seat. Battery performance was evaluated by system-level tests including cold-cranking. It was found that our battery can ...
